RE: Declaration of Force Majeure

Dear Valued Customer,

As the global coronavirus (Covid-19) pandemic continues throughout the world, our industry is experiencing unprecedented raw material shortages and industry wide challenges within the supply chain. Recently, Sensata and its affiliates, which includes Gigavac (collectively “Sensata”) have received an ever-increasing number of Force Majeure notices from our suppliers related to raw materials including, but not limited to resins, electronic components, and metals.

Given the sudden notifications from our suppliers, and this extraordinary time, Sensata sees no other option than to declare a Force Majeure Event under the provisions of all applicable agreements, contracts, purchase order terms and conditions, or other documents issued in connection with such services or supplies, or under other relevant law. As it is unknown how long these conditions will persist, this Force Majeure Declaration shall continue in full force and effect until further written notice.

Please be assured, Sensata recognizes the impact the raw material shortage and industry wide supply challenges are having across the globe. In an attempt to minimize this impact, we are working tirelessly with our suppliers to increase allocations on behalf of our customers and where possible we are seeking to qualify alternate suppliers and/or materials in order to meet our customers’ demands.

Please know, we remain dedicated to providing a high level of service to our customers, and we greatly value our business relationship. We appreciate your understanding during these extraordinary and unprecedented times and we will provide updates as they become available.

Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to reach out to customer service or your account representative.

Sincerely,
